

Post Procedure Advice following Oesophageal Banding

Your procedure will normally have been carried out with a conscious sedative injection or a general anaesthetic, therefore it is important for the next 24 hours you do not:

Drive a car/motorbike or ride a bicycle	Sign any legal documents
Operate any domestic appliances or machinery	Drink alcohol
Look after young children alone	Take sleeping tablets

One of the effects of sedation is that you may not remember having the procedure, this is normal.

The same or another responsible adult that collects you from the Endoscopy Unit should stay with you for the next 12 hours.

What can I eat?

Ideally you should take a soft diet (puree consistency) for example soups, yoghurts, mashed potato and pasta for 24 hours. Avoid hot drinks for 24 hours; warm/cold drinks are acceptable.

How will I feel after the procedure?

The back of your throat may feel sore for the rest of the day and you may still feel a little bloated.

If your procedure was carried out with sedation you may feel sleepy for the remainder of the day.

You may feel that when you swallow that food gets held up a little as a result of the bands that have been applied.

When should I seek help/advice?

Serious side effects are rare however if any of the following occur within 48 hours after your banding, consult a doctor immediately:

Vomiting blo	Trouble swallowing	Chest pains
Severe abdominal pain	Difficulty breathing	Fever
Severe Bloating	Bowel motion turns black	Passing blood from back passage
